About ACCLM

ACCLM is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) RTO ID 40829 and is listed on the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for International Students (CRICOS) which is a register of Australian Education Providers that are permitted to recruit, enrol and teach international students (CRICOS code: 03637E). ACCLM is part of the Education Centre of Australia Group.

ACCLM is responsible for the quality of the training and assessment you will receive in compliance with Standards for RTOs 2015, and for the issuance of the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) certification documentation. The Standards set out the requirements that an organisation must meet in order to be an RTO and ensure the integrity of nationally recognised training provided by RTOs.

ACCLM offers various courses on its scope of registration which you can see here:
<https://training.gov.au/Organisation/Details/40829>

ACCLM ensures that current and prospective students are provided with the information they require to allow them to make informed decisions about enrolling with ACCLM, their training and assessment and to enter a training pathway that is the right fit for their career goals. Quality assurance ACCLM operates under the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015. The Standards provide a framework for the delivery of quality educational services and for policies and procedures that the College follows in delivering its services. ACCLM regularly performs internal audits against these Standards to ensure that the College is compliant with the Standards, and that our policies and procedures are being implemented. ACCLM as an RTO is also subject to external audits conducted by the national VET regulator (Australian Skills Quality Authority), and independent financial auditors.

ACCLM constantly seeks to improve its educational services. Feedback from students is an important part of our quality review process and we encourage you to provide feedback at any time about any aspect of our service.

The Unique Student Identifier (USI)

The USI is a reference number made up of ten numbers and letters that creates a secure online record of your recognised training and qualifications gained in Australia from all training providers you undertake recognised training with and will give you access to your training records and transcripts. It can be accessed online anytime and anywhere, is free and easy to create, and stays with you for life.

If you are a new or continuing student undertaking nationally recognised training, you need a USI in order to receive your Qualification of Statement of Attainment. If you do not have a USI you will not receive your Qualification of Statement of Attainment. International students studying in Australia require a USI. All international students in Australia will have been issued with a Student Visa. Once you have arrived in Australia your visa will be activated, and you will be able to apply for a USI.

Creating a USI is quick, easy and free however you will need to provide identification to do so. To create a USI go to: <https://www.usi.gov.au/students/create-usi>

ACCLM mission

ACCLM is committed to achieving high standards in the provision of vocational education, training and other client services for the aged and community care sectors. Our trainers and assessors have many years of practical hands-on experience in their areas of expertise and provide contextualised training which can be put into practice immediately.

We have a unique holistic approach to the work we do, taking pride in the practical performance outcomes achieved by our clients. Learning and development can be delivered in a number of flexible and individualised ways. Our cost-effective solutions are tailored to meet the operational budgets of an organisation or an individual.

ACCLM understands the difficulties in maintaining high quality care whilst minimising costs and maximising revenue. Our training focuses on the development and implementation of the practical strategies and changes necessary to achieve these aims.

Enrolment

When applying for enrolment a students' application is assessed on the entry criteria of the course. The applicant will be notified of the outcome of their application and if the applicant is not satisfied with the outcome of their application, they may request the application to be reviewed.

Students have the right to defer or cancel their enrolment as long as they follow the requirements set in the Enrolment and Transfer to another Provider Policy and Procedure available on the ACCLM website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/>. When the application is approved students will be provided with a confirmation of enrolment and information relating to the commencement of the course and orientation will be provided. If the application is not approved the applicant will be informed in writing of the reasons.

Student entry requirements and application procedures

Domestic students applying for courses at ACCLM can download an information pack on our website: <https://www.acclm.edu.au/information-pack/>

International students can apply through an Education Agent. Please see the Enrolment policy and procedure at <https://www.acclm.edu.au/>.

All documentation submitted with the application should be either original or certified copies. If the correct documentation is not received, the application may be rejected. The applicant will be contacted and asked to submit the required documentation.

A complaint is negative feedback about services, whether provided by the College or others on its behalf, other students or staff. A complaint may be received by ACCLM in any form and does not need to be formally documented by the complainant in order to be acted on. The complaint may be about the student's dealings with the College, its Education Agents or any related party it has an arrangement with to deliver the course or related services. It may also be about staff or other students.

Appeals:

An appeal is an application by a student for reconsideration of a decision. An appeal must be made in writing and detail the situation or the decision in dispute. Appeals must be lodged within 28 working days of the date the student has been informed of the decision.

For appeals and complaints procedures refer to the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure on the ACCLM website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>.

Making a complaint to ASQA:

To make a complaint to the regulatory authority, Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA), students are to complete the Complaint about a Registered Training Organisation form located on the ASQA website www.asqa.gov.au/complaints. Before taking this option, students are advised that they are required to have exhausted all processes through ACCLM.

External complaints and appeals process

After you have accessed the internal complaints handling and appeals process, and if you are not satisfied with the outcome of the internal appeals process, you can follow up your complaint to an external body. Your provider must advise you of your rights to seek an external complaints and appeals process at minimal or no cost within 10 working days of the completion of the internal complaints handling and appeals process.

International students may appeal any ACCLM decision after exhausting all internal appeal processes at the:

International Students Ombudsman:

Email: ombudsman@ombudsman.gov.au

Web: <https://www.ombudsman.gov.au/>

In some cases, the OSO may decide not to investigate your complaint if you have not made a complaint or appeal to your provider first.

Domestic students may submit a complaint to the National Training Complaints Hotline after exhausting all internal appeals processes with ACCLM, on 13 38 73 or by email <https://www.education.gov.au/email-complaints>

Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) assessment

The purpose of an LLN assessment is to determine the skills of an applicant to ensure they meet the Australian Core Skills Framework requirements for language, literacy and numeracy. Language, literacy and numeracy skills are important to the success in any course. Course entry requirements are based on a level of English which compares with the level of LLN required.

- If an applicant meets the course requirements, such as providing evidence of an IELTS score which meets entry requirements, then an LLN assessment is not required.
- If an applicant is unable to show satisfactory English language requirements, such as IELTS or other English language test, then the applicant will be required to complete an LLN test.
- An LLN test may also be required if an applicant has completed a pre-enrolment interview and further LLN testing is required to support course entry.

LLN assessment can also assist ACCLM identify any individual support needs or whether reasonable adjustment may be required throughout the duration of the training program.

Where the need for additional support is identified, ACCLM staff will work with the student to ensure support is given which may include:

- Language Literacy and Numeracy (LNN) support
- Reasonable adjustment
- Referral to external specialist organisations and/or agencies

If the required support involves an external organisation or agency and/or attracts an additional cost, this will be the responsibility of the learner. ACCLM ensures that this is made clear in student pre-enrolment information. ACCLM referral to external assistance is at no cost.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Credit Transfer (CT)

ACCLM offers all students the opportunity to apply for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) or Credit Transfer (CT).

- Credit Transfer – credit for a unit of competency a student already holds through recognition of their formal learning.
- Recognition of Prior Learning – assesses the competency of a student gained through life and work experiences and through non-formal training.

When applying for a Credit Transfer, you must provide evidence that you have already achieved the unit of competency you are requesting Credit for. This is in the form of an original and certified copy of the relevant Statement of Attainment or Qualification Certificate. You can find the Credit Transfer Application Form on the ACCLM website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>.

For RPL, the evidence you provide can be acquired in a variety of ways e.g. formal study, work experience or 'life' experiences, and may include other course information and certification, or evidence collected from a work environment which demonstrates your competence in the units for which you are applying for RPL. If you wish to apply for RPL, you will be required to complete the RPL Application Form published on the ACCLM Website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>. Once this application is received the student will be sent an RPL kit to be completed in full by the student supplying all relevant supporting documentation and evidence for RPL Assessment. An RPL fee will be issued for RPL Assessment and must be paid by the student. The RPL kit and evidence will be assessed by the appointed assessor and the student will be advised of the outcome within 14 days of the application being received.

If you wish to apply for CT or RPL, you must follow the procedures outlined in the Credit Transfer and Recognition of Prior Learning Policy and Procedure available on the ACCLM website: <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>.

Students will receive and will be required to agree to a Fee Payment Schedule and instalments detailed in their Letter of Offer.

A statement of Fees and Charges is published on ACCLM website and includes all costs associated with a course including non-tuition, re-assessment, administration or amenities fees applicable. Tuition fees are subject to change, ACCLM reserves the right to amend course fees and set other fees and charges.

Non-tuition fees and charges

ACCLM Academic Managers will identify learners at risk of not completing their training within the nominated time frame and implement strategies to assist the learner to complete on time to avoid additional costs/charges.

If additional support is required after the allocated training and assessment time frame, the Academic Manager will liaise with both the learner (and workplace supervisor if applicable) to ensure that all additional costs and charges are explained. If at the agreed training contract end date, you are still Not Yet Competent and ACCLM has met all obligations throughout the training period, costs will be charged for each unit of competency that has been deemed Not Yet Competent that you wish to complete. The additional fees will be calculated at a per competency cost.

Payment of tuition fees

Your first instalment tuition fees must be paid in full prior to the commencement of your course. An international student will receive a Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) after payment and then can apply for student visa.

Fees are payable when the student has received notification of enrolment. ACCLM may discontinue training if fees are not paid. ACCLM will inform you of the payment methods available to you.

Students must pay their tuition fee payments by the due date in order to be registered for a class. If a student has not paid their fees they are deemed to be non-financial. Non-financial students may be subject to the following:

- Students will not be registered/allocated to a class while non-financial
- Students may be subjected to any published late fees in accordance with acceptable State legislation. These fees are published on the ACCLM website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/>

ACCLM reserves the right to apply sanctions to students with outstanding debts. Penalties for non-payment of fees, charges or monies owing for services provided to a student may include, but are not limited to, the student not being entitled to:

- enrol/ re-enrol,
- receive any results of assessment
- graduate or receive a qualification
- receive a Statement of Attainment /transcript of academic record.

Refunds

Students may apply for a refund by completing and submitting an online Refund Application Form. An approved withdrawal is required. Students must first apply for withdrawal. Applications for withdrawal from the ECA Group courses will be processed within 20 working days and, if successful, progressed with recommendations to the Accounts Manager for determination of the refund application.

The full Refund policy and procedure can be accessed on the College website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies/ECA-Group-Fees-and-Refund-Policy.pdf> and should be read in full.

Refunds will be made in Australian dollars. The College reserves the right to make refunds payable in the country of origin. Where an international student requests that the refund is made payable to a relative or other person in Australia, this will only be granted if documentary evidence proves that the relative or other person paid the tuition fees. Fees will be payable to the account from which the funds were issued.

If a student does not notify ACCLM of a withdrawal in writing, they will be considered as being enrolled and will be liable to pay the Course Fee in full. If a student is able to demonstrate that matters beyond their control requires them to withdraw from their course(s) then a request for a refund, in full or for a proportion of the fees paid, may be submitted to ACCLM for consideration. Any such application will be considered on its merits.

Changes to terms, conditions and agreed services

ACCLM reserves the right to amend the conditions of the student's enrolment at any time. If amendments are made that effect the student's enrolment the student will be informed 7 days prior to changes taking effect.

ACCLM will also advise the student as soon as practicable, should there be any new third-party arrangements or a change in ownership or changes to existing third-party arrangements.

Change of address or contact details

Students must notify ACCLM of changes to their contact details, residential address, email address (if any), mobile phone number (if any) within 7 business/working days as maintaining current student contact details are a condition of an Australian student visa.

Any student visa holder who moves to a new address must notify Department of Home Affairs and the college immediately. It is a requirement of a student visa that contact details are kept up to date with the education provider.

In cases where ACCLM issues either the warning(s) or an Intention to Report letter the international student is accountable for current address and contact details. Failure to provide current details may impact on student visa status particularly when the student fails to respond to communication and is reported on PRISMS.

Student card

In order to obtain a student card, students need to have a photo taken for Student Identification. The photo can be taken by College staff and the card will be ready within 5 days. Students must carry the ACCLM student card at all times when on ACCLM campus. The ACCLM student card can be used as a concession card at museums, theatres, cinemas etc. If a student loses a student card and requires a replacement, a fee may be charged.

If a student requests termination of a principle course of study within the first six months, the student must apply for a release which will only be granted in accord with the conditions in the National Code of Practice. If a student fails to inform ACCLM that they have terminated their studies, intervention will be initiated and failure to respond will result in reporting on PRISMS.

ACCLM is dedicated to ensuring that all our learners successfully complete their training. Your ACCLM Academic Manager will work closely with you to ensure that you are fully supported throughout your course.

Support may be provided to all learners in a number of ways, including phone and email support. Learner Support includes providing students with a range of academic skills on topics including:

- managing time
- tackling assessments
- structuring and formatting assessments
- referencing
- academic writing
- computer skills
- Language assistance where required.

English language delivery and support

All courses delivered by ACCLM are delivered in English. Trainers and Assessors will assist students to understand assessments and will go over assessment tasks in class or online to make sure students know exactly what is expected of them.

If students have any problems or doubts regarding the course content or assessment, they should always ask their trainer and assessor for help and advice. This will ensure that students get the help and support they need to successfully attain their qualification.

Attendance requirements

ACCLM courses are designed with class participation. You will be required to interact with other students and your Trainer to get the most out of your training. Students are required to participate in the learning environment which may include attending class, participating in online forums or chats, interacting with your trainer during assessment tasks and completing in-class assessments or online presentations.

Your Trainer will inform you of these requirements at the beginning of each unit. You may be required to complete interactions or other pre-assessment tasks before you attempt the assessment tasks.

Attendance is an essential element of student visa requirements for international students on a study visa. For detailed information on Attendance Requirements refer to the Attendance policy on the website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>. Also see the Leave section in Part B.

ACCLM ensures that attendance is recorded by your Trainers, and our Intervention Officer or Student Services Officer will identify attendance problems and offer counselling in order to find solutions. ACCLM may counsel students having problems with their attendance and recommend solutions which may include providing extra classes or workshops and re-assessments.

Facilities

Computer facilities

All students at ACCLM have access to computer labs equipped with modern computers and visual aid devices. Enrolled students are given access to free Internet facilities, a variety of software, and printing and email facilities. Individual network accounts are given to students immediately upon the processing of the enrolment form.

Essential website and IT services

As well as being a key information point for students, the ACCLM Website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/> provides links to:

- Information on all courses offered by ACCLM.
- Student support for Application Forms and all other forms a student may need to use and a place to update your personal and contact details.
- The ACCLM Student Handbook.
- ACCLM Policies and Procedures

While studying at ACCLM, students will have ready access the ACCLM Student Portal to enable students to:

To log onto the ACCLM Student Management System or Learning Management System, go to the ACCLM home page <https://www.acclm.edu.au/> and click on "Student Login" and select the SMS or LMS. The student will then have to log on with their student ID and Password, given to students at orientation. Logging into the LMS will provide students with access to the ACCLM e-Learning Platform where they can access learning materials to prepare for classes, discussion boards, quizzes and assessments, and where they can also submit assessments and assignments for their trainers to assess.

If you experience any difficulties with IT or if you are unable to submit an assessment item via the LMS, contact a Student Support Officer for assistance.

- Webcam
- Internet bandwidth of at least 600kbps/1.2Mbps (upload/download)

Recommended Software:

Access to requested records will be arranged and within 24 business hours of the request. Students should note that these records cannot be removed from the campus unless a copy is requested. Standard printing fees will apply.

Privacy

ACCLM abides by the Privacy Act 1988 where an organisation must not collect personal information unless the information is necessary for one or more of its functions or activities. ACCLM Privacy Policy can be found here: <https://www.acclm.edu.au/privacy-policy/>

As an organisation, ACCLM will not use or disclose personal information about an individual for a purpose (the secondary purpose) other than the primary purpose of collection unless:

- a) both of the following apply:
 - i. the secondary purpose is related to the primary purpose of collection and, if the personal information is sensitive information, directly related to the primary purpose of collection;
 - ii. the individual would reasonably expect the organisation to use or disclose the information for the secondary purpose; or
- b) the individual has consented to the use or disclosure.

Assessment

ACCLM has thorough assessment systems in place which meet the requirements of registration for Registered Training Organisations. Assessment services provided by ACCLM are conducted by qualified assessors holding a current TAE40116 Certificate IV in Training and Assessment, and assessment is conducted in accordance with the current Training Package Guidelines.

Information relating to the method of assessment for the training you are undertaking is provided to you on your online learning platform, which clearly outlines all assessment tasks and activities and related requirements. You have the right to have this information before you commence your training and all assessment tasks assessed by ACCLM staff will follow the rules of evidence – being valid, reliable, flexible, fair, authentic and current.

All assessment evidence submitted will be kept on file within ACCLM archives as follows:

- the duration of the assessment appeal period, or
- a period of six months from the date on which the judgement of competence was made;

whichever is the longer period.

Competency based Assessment

As a Nationally Recognised RTO, all training and assessment activities conducted by ACCLM are competency based.

Assessment within the National Skills Framework is the process of collecting evidence and making judgements about whether competency has been achieved to confirm whether an individual can perform to the standards expected in the workplace, as expressed in the relevant endorsed unit of competency.

The Dimensions of Competency

Competency is achieved once an individual is able to apply their knowledge and skills to successfully complete work activities in a range of situations and environments, in accordance with the standard of performance expected in the workplace.

Each assessment response will be deemed 'Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent'. If you are deemed 'Not Yet Competent', you will be given the opportunity to resubmit for assessment. You will be given one chance to resubmit an assessment to receive a 'Satisfactory' outcome. If you do not receive 'Satisfactory' you will be deemed 'Not Yet Competent' in that Unit of Competency.

When all assessment tasks for that unit are deemed 'Satisfactory', you will be marked as competent overall for that Unit of Competency.

Assessment tools commonly used by ACCLM to determine competence include:

- Knowledge questions
- Projects
- Reports
- Case Studies
- Role Plays
- Presentations

Assessment Policy

All assessments submitted by students must fulfil the expectations as set out in the assessment question and assessment instructions. This means you must complete the assessment using the guidelines set out for content, word limit, layout, and time limit.

Written assessment items must also be of an acceptable standard in terms of legibility and tidiness. Assessment items which do not meet these requirements may not be deemed 'Satisfactory'.

Submission of assessment items

All assessment items must be submitted electronically by the due date. You must always keep a copy of your assessment item, in case of accident, theft or loss. All assessment items submitted must be your own work. Any assessment items that are found to be duplicates or copies of another person's work, or if it is determined that the assessment material is not your own, the assessment item will be marked 'Not Yet Satisfactory' and must be resubmitted in full. Online student assessments are submitted and automatically searched for text recognition which evaluates the amount of text that is not original. Your trainer will advise you of the result.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Students must always acknowledge the source of the ideas and material used in assessments using the referencing guidelines found in the ECA Group Student Guide to Harvard Referencing Style <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>.

If you do not acknowledge the author of the source, it looks like you are attempting to present it as your own, which is plagiarism. Plagiarism may be intentional or unintentional; however, both are considered misconduct. All of the following are considered plagiarism:

- copying/using words, sentences or paragraphs from someone else (including from websites) without acknowledgement;
- closely paraphrasing sentences, paragraphs or ideas (e.g. copying sentences and substituting a few words with similar meaning) without acknowledgement;
- copying so many words or ideas from a source that it makes up the majority of your work, whether you give credit or not;
- failing to put a quotation in quotation marks;
- giving incorrect information about the source of a quotation;

Plagiarism is taken very seriously by the College and may result in a finding of academic misconduct that can incur penalties including loss of marks, a fail grade for an assessment, a fail grade for a unit, or expulsion from the College. The ACCLM Academic Manager will investigate the matter to ensure that this does not continue. If enrolment is terminated in this manner, you will not be eligible for a refund for the cost of the training. See ECA Group Plagiarism Policy and Procedure on the RTO website <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>.

Extension for submission of assessments

Extensions may be given in cases of illness, or other extenuating circumstances. Extensions may only be granted by ACCLM Director of Studies and Academic Manager and will only be granted before the due date.

If you require an extension, contact your ACCLM Academic Manager by telephone or email. You may be required to present a Medical Certificate.

Assessment appeal process

Students wishing to appeal a result need to meet with the Trainer and Assessor in the first instance as outlined within the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure. If you are still unhappy with the result you may submit an Appeal Application within 5 working days of the result being issued. The Appeal Application Form is available on the ACCLM website: <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>

An investigation into an appeal may result in one of the following outcomes:

- a) The Appeal is upheld. In this event the following options will be available:
 - i. The original assessment will be re-assessed, potentially by another assessor
 - ii. Appropriate recognition will be granted
 - iii. A new assessment shall be conducted/arranged
- b) The Appeal is rejected/ not upheld; in accordance with ECA Group's assessment policy the student will be required to:
 - i. undertake further training or experience prior to further assessment; or
 - ii. re-submit further evidence; or
 - iii. submit/undertake a new assessment.

You will be advised of the outcome in writing. If you are still unhappy with the results of the appeal process, you will be advised of your rights to further assistance. A fee may apply if re-assessment is required after the completion of the Training Program.

Study assistance

If you need assistance, your trainer will be able to provide you with one-on-one help and suggest additional readings and information. Just ask. ACCLM's trainers are very friendly and want to help students achieve their learning goals.

Issuing Qualifications and Statements of Attainment

Upon successful completion of a training program in which the student is enrolled, ACCLM will issue the student with an Australian Qualification Framework certification documentation (Qualifications or Statements of Attainment) within 30 calendar days of the student being assessed as meeting the requirements of the training product.

Please note however that the College is not obliged to issue a certificate to a completed student if:

- all agreed fees the student owes to the Institute have not been paid.
- the student has not provided a valid Unique Student Identifier

Students should be aware that a:

- Qualification is the result of a student successfully achieving all units of competency for a qualification outcome as specified in a training package or an accredited course. A qualification is a formal certification that a student has achieved learning outcomes as described in the AQF. The qualification is comprised of a testamur and a record of results confirming that a qualification has been awarded to an individual.
- Statement of Attainment is issued when the student has achieved one or more units of competency as a result of completing a course which included units of competency only or where the student achieved one or more units of competency as part of an enrolment in a qualification-based course but the student did not achieve all of the units of competency to receive the full qualification.

Course progression

You will be informed of your course progress requirements during your orientation session. Your progression through your course will be monitored at all times. If you fall behind the progress targets, your Trainer/Assessor will contact you to discuss any difficulties you may be having and what support ACCLM can provide to assist you towards completing your training.

Note: International Students should see the Course Progress Policy for international students in Part B of this handbook.

You will be considered to be making unsatisfactory course progression if you:

- have not engaged in any learning or assessment activities for three consecutive months, and/or
- fail to achieve competency in the same unit three times; or
- do not complete your program of learning within the maximum course duration
- are deemed to be an unsafe practitioner at any point during or following work placement/work experience.

If you are at risk of not making satisfactory course progression, you may be offered extra support through the implementation of an intervention strategy. The extra support may include one or more of the following:

- Learning support / Academic skilling
- Strategies identified by the LLN instrument completed by the student for the qualification they are enrolled in
- Counselling
- Disability support

- IT support
- Academic program support

Your progression will be monitored on the basis of your course results in relation to your progress and professional practice in relation to work placement/work experience. No other factors are taken into account when identifying students at risk of not progressing.

If you are having trouble, please don't wait to be identified as at risk of not progressing. Talk to your Trainer and Assessor about additional support that may be suitable for you or speak to the Student Services team.

Training evaluation

Your feedback is important to us and assists us in meeting our commitment to providing quality training and education. In seeking to improve the quality of training, you may be asked from time to time to complete an Evaluation Form or survey. International Students

Australia's education profile

The Australian Government Department of Education and Training promotes mobility through qualifications recognition. The Australia Country Education Profile provides comprehensive information about education in Australia to improve understanding of the Australian education system and Australian qualifications.

To support mobility, the department engages domestically and globally on qualifications recognition policy and encourages improved recognition practices. It also engages in international policy dialogue on the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Other departmental information and services to support recognition includes Country Education Profiles—an online recognition tool providing guidance on the comparability:

- of international qualifications to qualifications on the AQF, lists of recognised institutions and information about education systems for 126 countries
- professional development for recognition authorities
- providing qualifications recognition policy advice to Australian educational institutions, professional assessing authorities and state and territory governments
- assessments of international postsecondary qualifications for individuals for general purposes.

For more information see <https://www.internationaleducation.gov.au/>

Education Services for International Students Framework

Australia provides strong protection for international students through the Education Services for International Students (ESOS) legislation, which requires institutions that provide education to international students to meet nationally consistent standards in education delivery, facilities and services. Breaches of the Act are treated seriously, and the penalties can be significant.

All institutions wanting to deliver courses to international students in Australia must be registered with the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for International Students (CRICOS) and meet special registration conditions.

The National Code of Practice for Providers of Education and Training to International Students 2018 <https://www.legislation.gov.au/Details/F2017L01182> provides nationally consistent standards for the conduct of registered providers and the registration of their courses.

The standards set out specifications and procedures to ensure that registered providers of education and training courses can clearly understand and comply with their obligations under the National Code.

Information that explains your rights as a student studying in Australia under the Education Services for International Students Act 2000 can be found on the Study in Australia website:

<http://www.studyinaustralia.gov.au/global/australian-education/education-system/esos-act>

Tuition Protection Service (TPS)

Tuition fee protection for international students is organised under the Tuition Protection Service (TPS). The Tuition Protection Service is an initiative of the Australian Government to assist international students whose education providers are unable to fully deliver their course of study.

If in the unlikely event ACCLM cancels a course for which it has issued a CoE and does not offer an equivalent alternative course the affected student will be entitled to a full refund of course tuition fees for the cancelled course and any subsequent package courses; and a full refund of the International Student Health Cover Fee. The Tuition Protection Service (TPS) provides tuition protection to students in the case of provider default. TPS will assist you in finding an alternative course if a suitable alternative is not offered by the RTO and you are not offered a refund for unused tuition fees. The TPS is a placement and refund service to assist international students whose RTOs are unable to fully deliver their course of study. The TPS ensures international students can either:

- complete their studies in another course or with another registered provider or
- receive a refund of their unused tuition fees.

PRISMS

The Provider Registration and International Students Management System (PRISMS) is a secure computer system that is the information source for CRICOS. Education institutions and their courses are listed on PRISMS, as is each student studying in Australia on a student visa. That is because this system interfaces with the Department of Home Affairs (DHA) data.

Through PRISMS education institutions notify DHA of each student's enrolment in a course. This should occur before the student applies for a student visa to study in Australia. The enrolment information generates an electronic Confirmation of Enrolment (eCoE) as evidence of enrolment in a registered, full-time course. This eCoE is a key requirement for DHA to issue a student visa. Education providers also use PRISMS to notify DHA of students who may have breached the terms of their student visa. PRISMS has reduced visa fraud and ensured education institutions keep track of the students in their care.

International students' rights

The ESOS framework protects student rights. It includes:

- The right to receive, before enrolling, current and accurate information about courses, tuition and non-tuition fees, modes of study and other information from a provider and the provider's agent
- The requirement to sign a written agreement with the provider before or as fees are paid, setting out the services to be provided, fees payable and information about refunds of tuition and non-tuition fees. A copy of the written agreement will be kept by the student and ACCLM.

Fair Work Ombudsman

The Fair Work Ombudsman (FWO), is an independent statutory agency of the Government of Australia that serves as the central point of contact for free advice and information on the Australian national workplace relations system.

The Office of the Fair Work Ombudsman also investigates workplace complaints and enforces compliance with national workplace laws. The Office of the Fair Work Ombudsman offers employers and employees free information and advice on pay, conditions, and workplace rights and obligations under the national workplace relations system. The Office of the Fair Work Ombudsman operates the Fair Work Infoline for workplace relations queries on 13 13 94.

If you make a complaint to the Office of the Fair Work Ombudsman, they will make a decision about the best course of action to resolve the complaint. FWO might decide:

- that the matter is outside of their jurisdiction and refer the person somewhere else
- that there hasn't been a breach of Commonwealth workplace laws
- that mediation is the best way to resolve the issues
- to conduct a formal investigation
- to conduct an audit.

An investigation looks at employment records and documents to find out the facts of a workplace complaint and to decide if relevant parties have complied with Commonwealth workplace laws.

Delivery of courses

Students are required to undertake 20 hours' study per week during terms. ACCLM courses are structured to ensure the delivery and assessment process is both rigorous and relevant.

ACCLM adopts a Course Progress Policy and attendance is monitored as a component of unsatisfactory academic progress. Students are provided with textbooks and workbooks and access to a library.

Course Progress Policy

ACCLM monitors, records and assesses the course progress of each student in which the student is currently enrolled. The National Code of Practice for Providers of Education and Training to International Students 2018 (National Code) of the ESOS Act 2000, international students are required to maintain satisfactory course progress in order to successfully complete their program within the duration specified in the Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) letter.

Satisfactory course progress is defined as a student successfully completing all required subjects / units of competency in their program in order to achieve the qualification within the expected duration specified on their CoE.

Unsatisfactory course progress is defined as not successfully completing or demonstrating competency in at least 50% of the subjects/units of competency undertaken in that term (study period) or failing the same unit twice. A student who is identified as falling behind in completion will be managed via a range of intervention strategies.

An intervention strategy is an individual student learning plan developed by the Director of Studies in consultation with the Trainer/Assessor aimed at improving the academic progress of a student. Intervention strategies may include additional learning support, make-up classes, counselling, training to develop study habits or adjustment to the study program.

ACCLM will do everything it can to assist students who want to learn and progress.

ACCLM can only extend the expected duration of study in extremely limited circumstances, through issuing a new CoE letter. Students must provide evidence of compassionate and compelling circumstances.

If the intervention strategies do not result in any improvement, ACCLM will notify the student in writing of its Intention to Report to the Department of Education of unsatisfactory Course Progress and of their right to access the complaints and appeals processes within 20 days. This Intention to Report is a formal process and may result in the cancellation of the student visa by the Department of Home Affairs.

Students are advised to refer to the Course Progression Policy and the Course Progression Procedure on the College website: <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/>.

Deferring, suspending or cancelling a course

Under the requirements of the ESOS Act and National Code, International students enrolled at ACCLM are not permitted to defer commencement of their studies, or suspend their studies, except:

- on the grounds of illness evidenced by an Australian certified doctor's certificate stating that student is unable to attend classes
- compelling or compassionate circumstances beyond the control of the student

ACCLM may suspend or cancel a student's enrolment on the basis of misbehaviour, the student's failure to pay their fees or for a breach of course progress requirements. The College will inform the student of its intent to suspend or cancel their enrolment and advise them of their right to appeal the decision through its internal appeals process. The suspension or cancellation of a student's enrolment cannot take effect until the internal appeals process is completed.

Deferment, suspension and cancellation may affect a student's visa and ACCLM must report on PRISMS as required under Section 19 ESOS Act where the enrolment is deferred, temporarily suspended or cancelled. ACCLM must report the student to DHA via PRISMS, as not complying with visa conditions.

Process for transferring to another provider

Under the National Code of Practice for Providers of Education and Training to International Students 2018 of the ESOS Act 2000, international students are restricted from transferring between education providers prior to completing six months of their principal course of study, unless they are given a release from their RTO or can demonstrate exceptional circumstances. ACCLM will only consider giving a release to a student who has a valid enrolment offer from another registered education provider. Students must also complete an Application to Transfer between Registered Providers form. If granted, a release will be issued at no cost to the student.

All requests for a transfer are recorded on PRISMS by ACCLM including the reasons for refusal of release. Where a release is not granted, the student will be advised in writing providing the reasons for refusal. The student may access the College's complaints and appeals process <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies-forms/> within 20 working days if they want a review of the decision.

Applications for transfer from ACCLM will be assessed and replied to within 5 working days.

Students applying to transfer to another provider must use the following process:

- The student must go to Student Services to fill in the Termination Request Form
- Students must complete all sections, in particular the reason and circumstances for the transfer to another provider with documentary evidence
- Students who have NOT completed six months of their principal course MUST NOT provide a Confirmation of Enrolment from another provider as evidence.
- The student must then make an appointment to meet with the Director of Studies to discuss the transfer request
- The Director of Studies will discuss the circumstances that constitute reasonable grounds for refusal or acceptance of the student's request including when a transfer may be considered detrimental to the student.
- Assessing and replying to the student transfer request will be completed within 5 Business/working days unless insufficient evidence has been submitted with the application.
- In straightforward requests, students will be provided with an immediate signature from the Director of Studies during the interview either accepting or rejecting the transfer and termination request.
- In cases where other evidence needs to be provided and considered, all requirements will be noted on the SMS with required future actions.

In all cases, students who have not had their termination request approved may access the College's complaints and appeals process within 20 days. Evidence will be retained on the student file.

Extension of student's study period

ACCLM will only extend the duration of a student's study where it is clear that the student will not complete the course within the expected duration as specified on the students CoE as a result of:

- Compassionate or compelling circumstances (e.g. illness, where a valid medical certificate states that the student was unable to attend classes or where ACCLM has not been able to offer a pre-requisite unit of competency)
- ACCLM is implementing the intervention strategy for students at risk of not meeting satisfactory course progress
- ACCLM approved deferment or suspension of studies granted under the National Code of Practice

Where there is a variation in a student's enrolment load which affects the student's expected duration of study in accordance with Standard 8.16, ACCLM records this variation and the reasons on the student file. The College will then report the student via PRISMS and/or issue a new CoE to account for the variation.

The student is advised to contact Department of Home Affairs to seek advice on any potential impacts on their visa, including the need to obtain a new visa.

Except in circumstances specified as valid grounds for extension to duration as noted above, the expected duration of study at ACCLM specified in the student CoE will not exceed the CRICOS registered course duration.

Leave

Holidays and leave

ACCLM has timetabled in suitable holidays for international students undertaking courses, so students are not permitted to have additional holidays. ACCLM closes on all official Federal and state Public Holidays.

Special leave

International students may apply for special leave under specified compassionate or compelling circumstances. Compassionate or compelling circumstances are generally those beyond the control of the student and which are likely to have an impact upon the student's course progress or wellbeing and could include, but are not limited to:

- serious illness or injury, where a medical certificate states that the student will be unable to attend classes;
- death or illness of close family members such as parents or grandparents (doctors or death certificate should be provided);
- major political upheaval or natural disaster in the international student's home country requiring emergency travel and this has impacted, or will impact, on the student's studies;
- a traumatic experience which could include involvement in or witnessing of a serious accident; or witnessing or being the victim of a serious crime, which has impacted on the student (these cases should be supported by police or psychologist reports).

Students are required to provide compelling documentary evidence to support their request and are advised of the circumstances and consequences regarding suspension of study as a result of special leave. The maximum time allowed for a deferment or voluntary suspension of study for special leave is 20 weeks, not including holidays.

Sick leave

International students who are absent due to medical reasons MUST provide a medical certificate from a registered doctor. Where illness is for an extended period of time the student must notify ACCLM as soon as practicable.

In all cases where a student is absent with or without approval or seeks retrospective approval for an absence, ACCLM records the period as absent and retains a copy of the medical certificate on the student file and includes notes in the student learner management system.

Students must keep the original medical certificate(s) to provide to DHA if required. ACCLM maintains copies of medical certificates in the student file.

Leave application procedure

Where international students require special leave, a Leave Application form is available from ACCLM reception and must be completed with supporting documentation. Depending upon the degree of urgency the leave application will be processed as follows:

- Serious matters will be processed immediately
- Minor matters will be processed within 5 business/working days

In cases where a leave application has not been approved and the student takes leave without approval, the process for course progress will be initiated as per Policy for Course progress: <https://www.acclm.edu.au/policies/ECA-Group-Course-Progression-Policy.pdf>.
